

Mary Hood,
nationally known as “The Relaxed Home Schooler”.

She believes that a “relaxed home school” develops out of the mindset that you are a family, not a school; a dad, not a principal; a mom, not a teacher; and that you have individual relationships with your children, not a classroom. This mindset helps you to stress out less over school-like expectations, and relax and enjoy your family.

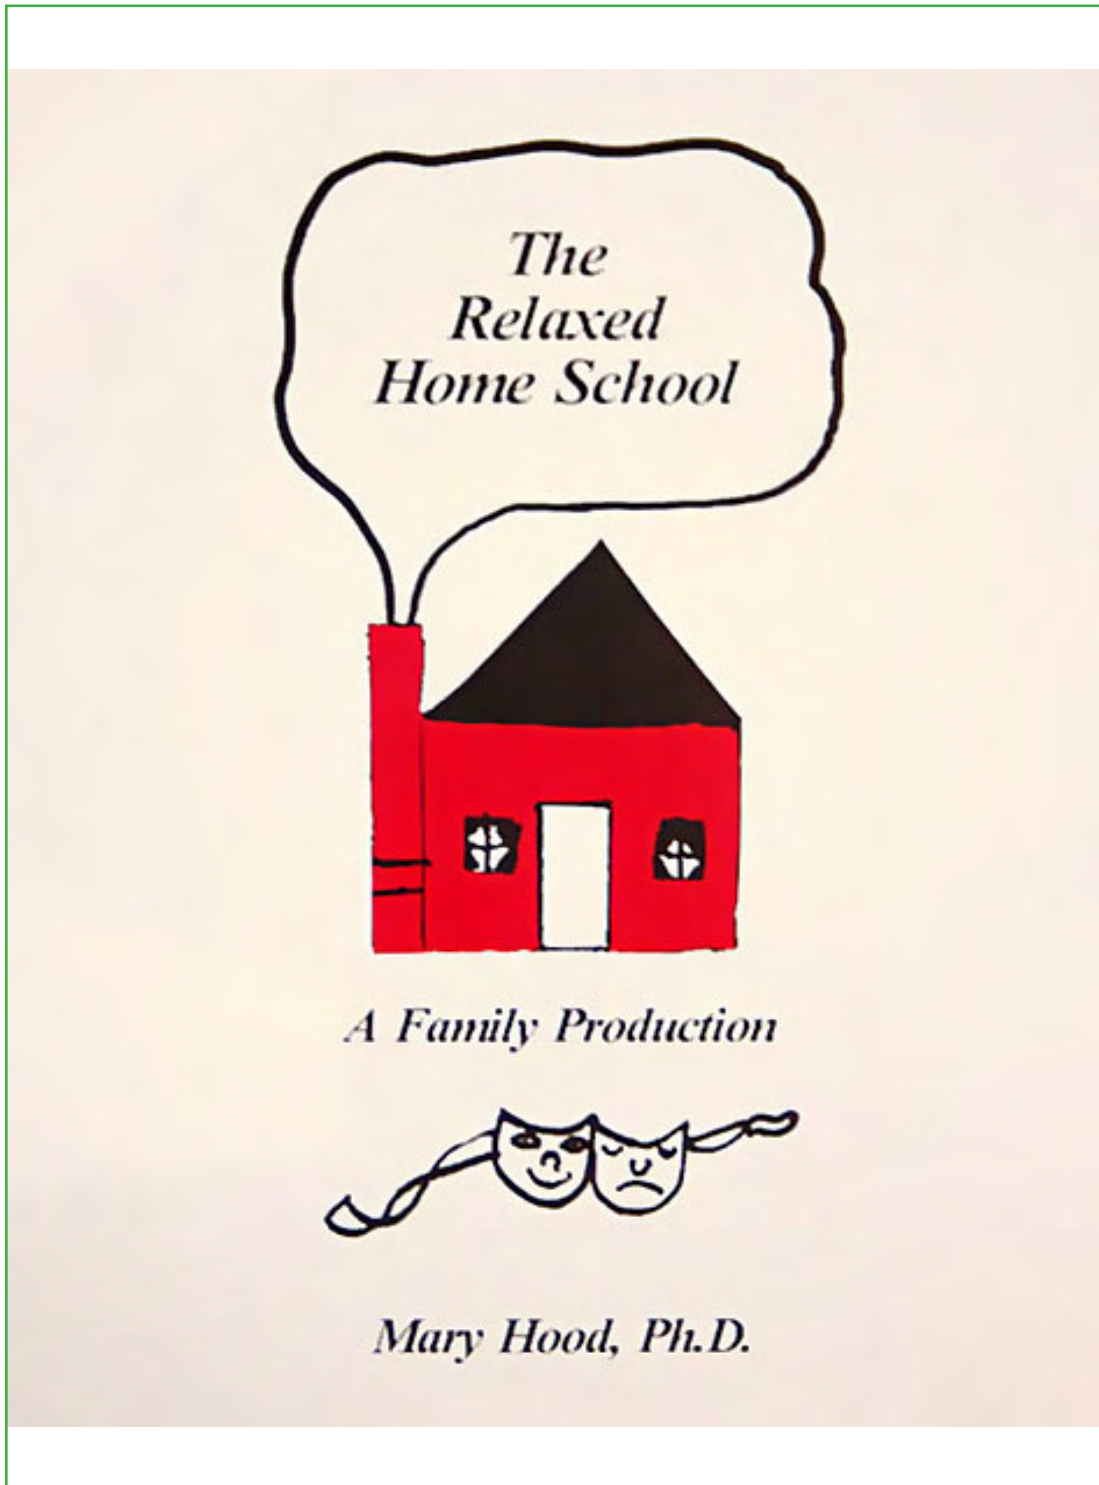

Mary Hood and her husband, Roy, have been homeschooling their five children since the early 1980s. The older children have successfully made the transition to college and adult life. Mary has a Ph.D. in education, and is a nationally-known speaker and the author of such books as “The Relaxed Home School”, “The Joyful Home Schooler”, and “The Enthusiastic Home Schooler”.

The Joyful Home Schooler

This book stresses the biblical underpinnings of the relaxed home school environment; the stress is on moms finding their own spiritual centers before trying to light fires of enthusiasm under their children!

Check the Web site for pricing and ordering

The Relaxed Home School

Mary's original book on relaxed homeschooling; gives details about the way Mary worked with her own children when they were young. Highly recommended for new people; those with young children; and those considering a switch to a less-structured format.

Check the Web site for pricing and ordering

The Enthusiastic Home Schooler

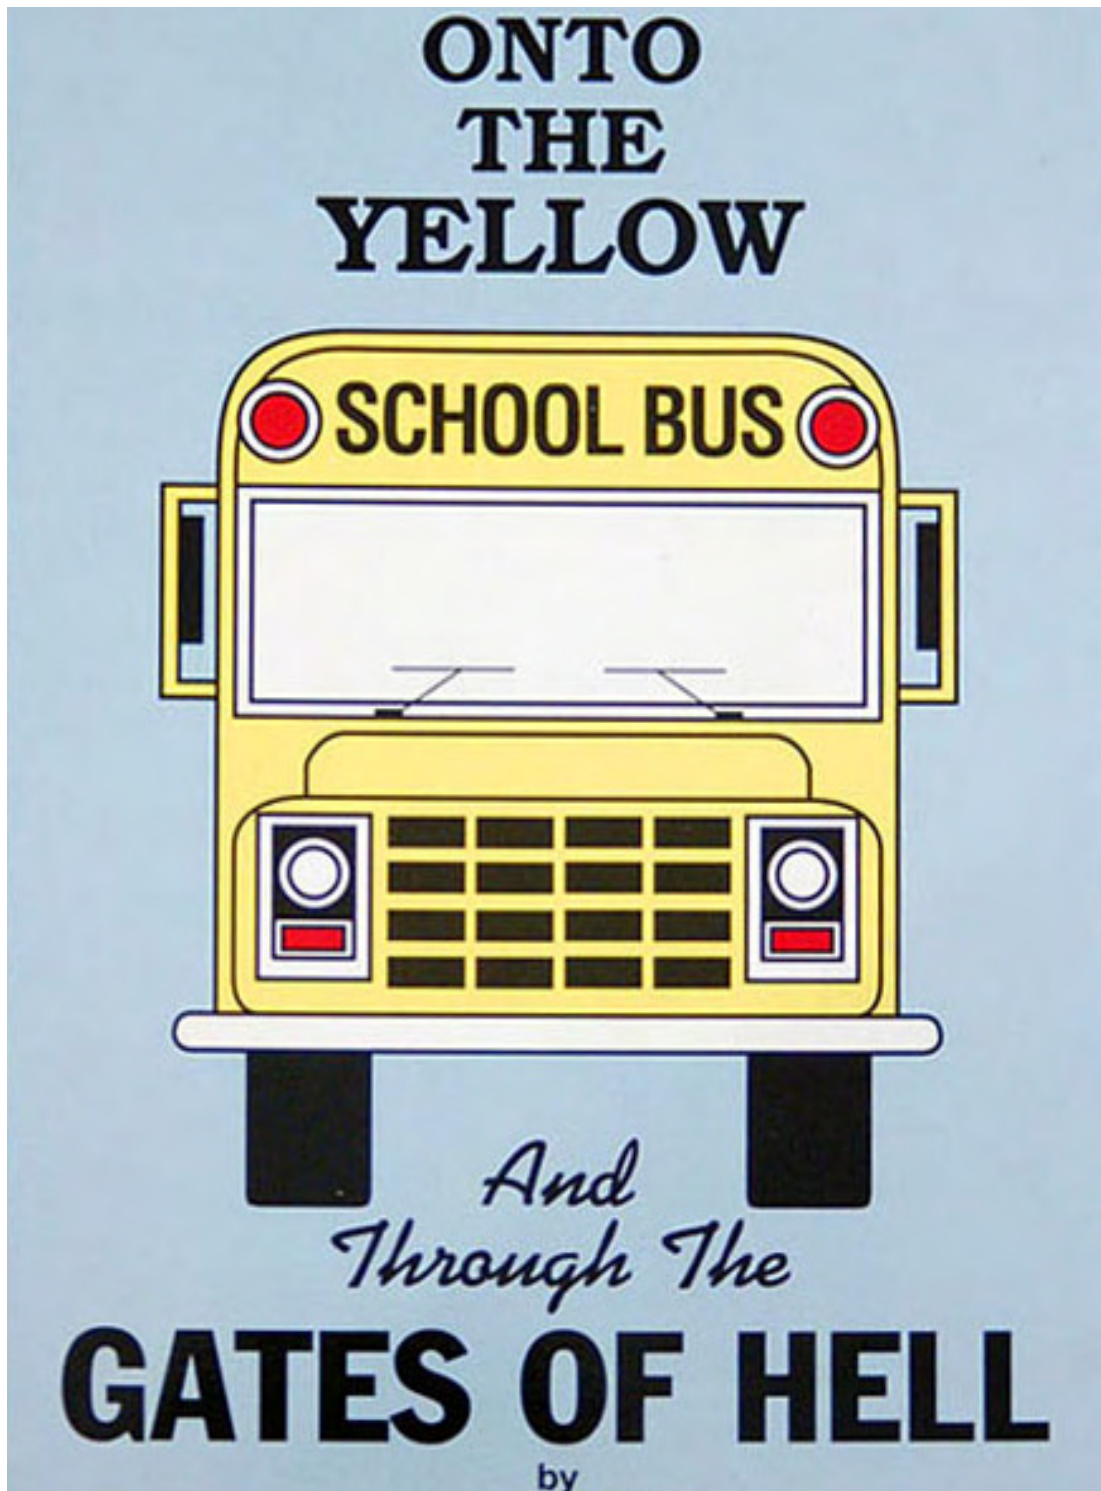

By Mary Hood, Ph.D.
Author of "The Relaxed Home School"

The Enthusiastic Home Schooler

This book is somewhat autobiographical in nature. It discusses homeschooling in difficult times. The cover has a picture of Mary's grandmother on it, who raised five children in a house with no indoor plumbing, electricity, or heat! The baby in the rocking chair is Mary's own mom, back in 1917.

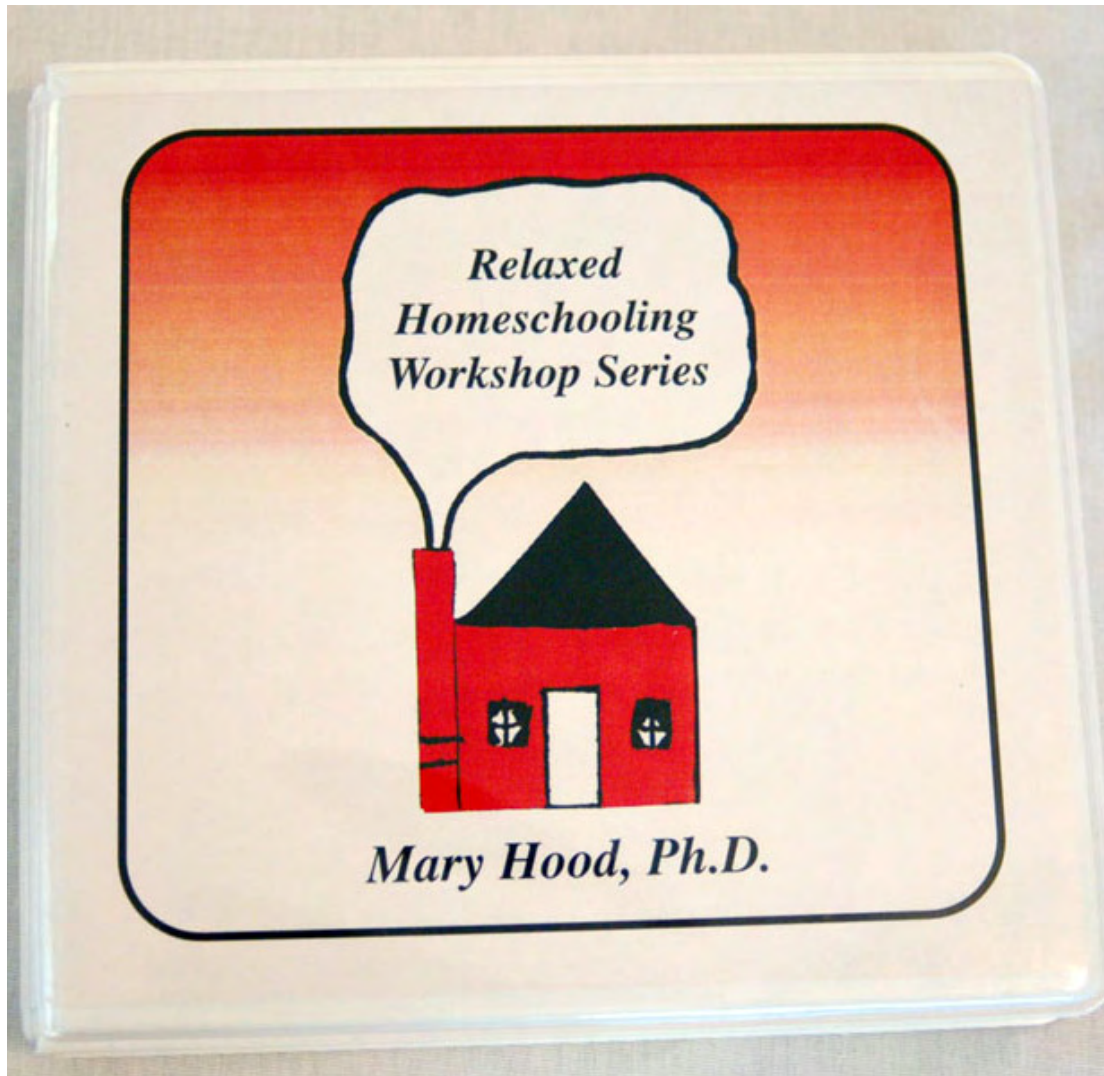

Check the Web site for pricing and ordering

Onto the Yellow School Bus and Through the Gates of Hell

This is Mary's book on spiritual warfare. It discusses her vision of how Christian schools, churches, and homeschoolers could band together effectively to create viable options for everyone who wants to leave the public school system.

Check the Web site for pricing and ordering

Relaxed Homeschooling Workshop Series(Set of 8 cds)

This cd set offers a complete overview of relaxed homeschooling. It contains the following workshops:

1. Overview/Mary's family stories
2. Setting goals/relaxed record keeping
3. How to look more like a family, less like a school/ Overview of elementary methods and materials
4. Reading & Writing the Natural Way/Using Children's Literature
5. Methods of social studies & science
6. "Taking the Frustration out of Math"/ Incorporating music, art, & drama into your home school
7. Working with middle schoolers
8. Working with High Schoolers (includes information about preparing for college).

Check the Web site for pricing and ordering